For new home owner and account holder listed in section 3:

For Electricity installations:

I hereby agree to the following:

- I authorise the company, tradesperson or builder listed in section 2 to submit a meter installation request to AGL to coordinate the installation of the electricity meter and connections to the supply address during your home's construction phase.
- I authorise AGL to arrange for the Meter Service Provider or Distributor to install the electricity meter and connection at the supply address.
- For Victorian customers, the installation will be on a date agreed with you.
- For New South Wales, South Australian or Queensland customers, the installation date will be on the earlier of either a date agreed with you or within 6 business days from the completion of the supply work.
- I acknowledge and agree that upon installation, electricity for the supply address listed will be sold to me on the terms and conditions and rates that apply under AGL's Standard Retail Contract.
- I understand and agree that AGL may vary rates from time to time, generally once a year in or around February (for Victoria) and in and around July (for other states) with prior notice provided.

For Gas installations:

I hereby agree to the following:

- I authorise the company, tradesperson or builder listed in section 2 to submit a meter installation request to AGL to coordinate the installation of the gas services and gas to the supply address during your home's construction phase.
- I authorise AGL to arrange for the Distributor to install natural gas at the supply address listed on the date the request is accepted, or as soon afterwards as can conveniently be arranged.
- I understand the acceptance of the installation work is subject to an on-site check of conditions by the Distributor. Work is subject to availability of a suitable gas main at the property boundary. NB: The account holder must obtain written approval from the affected parties to lay pipes in any common service access areas, particularly for battle-axe blocks with no street frontage, dual occupancy, common driveways etc. I acknowledge that offers for the sale of natural gas are not available to all geographical areas and are subject to natural gas availability.
- I agree to accept the standard Installation charge, which will appear on the first account. I understand most Installation charges are passed through by AGL from my Distributor and vary according to the works required and my distribution zone. Should the works attract a non-standard charge, I will be contacted for approval before proceeding.
- I understand the site specific information will be provided by my builder to AGL and the relevant distributors.
- I acknowledge and agree that upon installation, electricity for the supply address listed will be sold to me on the terms and conditions and rates that apply under AGL's Standard Retail Contract.
